SREF STYLE CODE COLLECTION

15 Tested Midjourney Style References

HOW TO USE SREF CODES

Add to the end of your Midjourney prompt:

```
/imagine [your prompt] --sref [code number]
```

Or combine with style weight:

```
/imagine [your prompt] --sref [code number] --sw 100
```

Style Weight (--sw):

- 0 = No style influence
- 100 = Default influence
- 1000 = Maximum style influence

COMBINING CODES

You can blend multiple style references:

```
/imagine [prompt] --sref 483744325 2847261954 --sw 150
```

This blends the two styles together.

Pro tip: Start with one code, then add a second at lower influence to subtly modify.

CREATING YOUR OWN STYLE CODES

Method 1: From Image

Upload an image you love:

```
/imagine [upload image] --sref
```

Midjourney will extract the style as a code.

Method 2: From Generation

If you get a result you love, run:

```
/describe [image]
```

Then use that description to inform future prompts.

Method 3: Random Discovery

```
/imagine [prompt] --sref random
```

Midjourney picks a random style. Note ones you like.

WORKFLOW

1. Pick a style code that matches your brand vibe
2. Write your content prompt
3. Add the SREF at the end
4. Generate 4 images
5. Pick best, iterate
6. Use same SREF for all brand images = consistency
